Farewell to Revd Adrian Brook

Adrian's time with us is drawing to a close and I am pleased to announce that he has been offered a living as a Team Vicar in the Northmoor Team Ministry in the Diocese of Exeter.

We have all enjoyed having Adrian with us. He won us over with his servant heart and his personal interest in every person. He is a man in touch with the Holy Spirit and we have appreciated his prayerful approach to life. We wish him and Diane every blessing as they leave us.

We intend to have a farewell Benefice service of Holy Communion at 11am on 20th July 2014 at St Nicholas Durweston followed by a shared lunch. Watch out for further details. I do hope that you will all come and say goodbye to Adrian.

Adrian will take up his new post in early September and hopefully we will be able to go down and support him at his institution service. Again details to follow. It is good to have as large a number of people going as possible as it sends a positive message to the receiving parish: Look after our man!

With every blessing

Stephen Coulter

BENEFICE WEATHER

RAINFALL - March and April 2014

MEASURED AT LAZERTON FARM since 1963

2014	Over the last 51 Years
March	Highest	Lowest	Average
2.64in(66.9mm)	6.42 in(163.1mm) 2001	0.38in (9.7 mm) 1990	2.89 in (73.5 mm)

March Comment: After the wettest winter on record, this month was pretty well back to average for rain. Indeed, after a soaking right at the beginning of the month we were all surprised and delighted by a 16 day period spanning the middle of the month with no rain at all. This compares rather favourably with the fact that between 12 December 2013 and the start of March there were only 5 days with no measurable rain. Mild temperatures continued giving us hope for the year ahead and plenty of early spring blossom with daffs and crocuses in abundance.

April	Highest	Lowest	Average
3.91in(99.2mm)	7.02 in(178.5 mm) 2012	0.09 in(2.3 mm) 1984	2.38 in (59.78 mm)

April Comment: Somewhat above average rainfall but with another dry, pleasant spell in the middle of the month. Easter week was definitely rainy but temperatures were mild. We could have done with more sunshine in the last week of the month to raise our spirits. Fruit trees blossoming well and the grass has shot away.

DURWESTON CE VA PRIMARY SCHOOL

The children have been marching out on their latest Welly Walk. In a plethora of plain, flowered, stripy, spotty and Peppa Pig wellies, the children rambled through the amazing countryside that we are so fortunate to have surrounding us. Whilst the younger members of the school and Handy Paws, (plus their even younger siblings snuggled into carriers) stretched their legs in an energetic walk closer to school, the older children went on a slightly more challenging trip to Norton wood and Bonsley Common, with the added bonus of meeting one of George's giant tractors! Mrs Santer, with her knowledge of the local area, competently planned the two routes for the children and invited members of the wider school community to participate also. There were even some well-behaved dogs who attended the KS2 walk. The children stopped for well-deserved snacks and drinks and we were blessed with weather that behaved itself, making the experience a whole lot more pleasant!

In response to last terms enquiry about the importance of the church to Durweston, one of our pupils, Freya, wrote an eloquent piece which we think deserves printing and many would enjoy.

“What does Durweston Church mean to me?”

The church means a little bit to me. If it was not there, the carol service and the nativity wouldn't be the same, although hot wax on your fingers isn't an experience I am likely to forget any day soon. There wouldn't be trips to the church, me staring absent-mindedly at the stained glass windows wondering who on earth these people were. There also wouldn't be assemblies there, although the fact spiders are resident there does put me off slightly. We wouldn't have these lessons and we wouldn't have our accounts of the church. Much of Durweston's history wouldn't exist. Durweston revolves around the church. I know it means a lot to other people. The kneelers are sewed with love, the visitor book shows that people do come to look at the church and all that it has to offer. People choose to spend their after-life here. Without the church, this school most likely wouldn't be here and then I and everyone else would have a second-class childhood.

I want to look back fondly at this school and church as a sweet, little village that, though I didn't know it, actually meant quite a bit to me. So I will revise my first sentence and say: Durweston church does mean a lot to me, though I was ignorant of that fact. And hopefully it means a lot to my fellow beings.”

Freya.

We are all looking forward to a very busy Summer Term which will include our annual residential visits for Years 4 and 6 to Leeson House and to the Isle of Wight, Sports Day and our Leavers Service at the end of term. The children will soon be starting rehearsals for the summer performances which also take place in July. This year they will be performing “A Letter to the Trenches”, to mark the centenary of the end of the First World War. The term will end with a picnic on the playing field (weather permitting).

PIMPERNE JUNIOR SCHOOL

I do hope that you enjoy the change of style for this issue of the magazine. It was inspired by the children's work which was taking place in every class around our school and I felt very passionately that it should be shared within the local community. I do hope too that it gives an informative insight as to what the children have been learning about through our cross-curricular topics.

J. De Silva Headteacher

Maple Class – Reception

Building on teamwork and communication, language and story-telling creativity, the children have amazed us with their ingenuity, within construction and role play. Their use of 'Poddely' this term has increased their awareness of each other, of using materials safely and managing small risks in addition to it's creative purposes.

We have been very busy counting this term! Counting in tens and twos, learning about odd and even numbers. The children found any opportunity to pair things up – even the frogs went two by two (see below)! Some children have been beginning to estimate numbers and then check them, whilst others have enjoyed recording totals.

All in all, a very successful and enjoyable term. Our superheroes have left us suspended in space, and our learning has been out of this world! The children are currently evaluating their learning and making suggestions for our next term's themes! We can't wait!

Chestnut Class – Year 1

"I have liked learning about the Rainforest, making our mobile masks and recording the information in a fact file this term."

"In my group I have liked the new sounds that I have used in my writing."

"Making the bath bombs in Science was good. The colour changed when we added food colouring and they fizzed."

Cherry Class – Year 2

"We enjoyed learning where different places are in the United Kingdom"

"We used wire, a light bulb and a cell to investigate electricity in science"

"We have been investigating multiplication and found out that using apparatus and shapes help you with your times tables"

Willow Class – Year 3

"Everyone in Year 3 has enjoyed the Egyptians, especially the homework project where there were plenty of ideas to show Howard Carter finding Tutankhamen's treasures."

"We all liked learning about Egyptians and had a great Egyptian day."

"We also really enjoyed our poetry learning, especially reciting our poetry! You can see more of this on our class web page."

Silver Birch Class – Year 4

This term has been really fun because I have enjoyed learning about the Himalayas. I also learnt a lot about climbing and it was fun. I learnt how to put on a harness and the equipment that was needed when you climb mountains. Our class all went climbing at The Blandford School. We all thought that the school was big compared to our one. The climbing wall was 24 feet high and I managed to climb half of that. It was really scary as well because we had to put our toes into little gaps and there were not any big bricks to hold onto.

This term we have been learning about MIGHTY MOUNTAINS! I really enjoyed the climbing; it was fun because it is all about confidence and also about believing in you.

I enjoyed learning about how some Indian people have to carry bowls for long walks to find water and then take it back to their home or village. Sometimes they even have to go down and back up a mountain.

Oak Class – Year 5

"I really enjoyed sketching the tiger pictures because it was a challenge, but also fun."

"I loved doing the rainforest pictures because we learned lots of different techniques and skills."

"I was very interested in making the posters because I found out lots of new information."

"I loved doing the shades of green paintings."

“I was fascinated by our coding in ICT.”

“I was amazed by our penguin learning and their habitats this term.”

Sycamore Class – Year 6

We have been busy looking after our eggs and have looked forward to caring for our chicks once the eggs hatched. Below is an extract from one of our chick diaries.

In the egg! - The first day we got the eggs everyone was very excited. As the days went by and the eggs developed, we started to get more and more curious as the days went by. In the first 5- 10 days we candled them (putting a very bright light under the egg to see inside) to find out if a living creature was inside. The last time we candled them was day 14 and there was hopefully a fully formed chick inside the egg, but not everyone was so lucky...

Hatching Days 1-2 and 3 – The first chick to hatch was Chunk (Jess's) followed by: Guppy, Pick, Snider, Eggward, Chickpea, Bobo, Jimmy, Yolky, Tikka, Chicken Little and Paraddidle. Unfortunately only 12 hatched the other 12 were not so fortunate to make hatching day.

Chickhood in the cage – Mr and Mrs Emmet have helped us out to care for our chicks, such as: putting bedding down, fresh food and water, transporting them from the incubator to the cage and generally making sure they are safe and sound.

Growing Up! – Since hatching day we have been very proud chick parents. We have watched them grow and gain confidence around us and their siblings. They have lost most of their fluffy feathers and have started to develop their plumage (adult feathers).
